The Reality

Disruptive events that impact businesses are happening at an increasing volume. Events like supply chain delays, workforce issues, expansion and consolidation of offices. The consequences of these events when not addressed can negatively affect the pillars of your digital collaboration ecosystem: end users, governance, infrastructure, management and technology. The result is technology avoidance, productivity declines and a negative return on investment.

The Challenge

An effective digital transformation requires thorough analysis, communication and planning. Collaboration systems are complex and failure is not an option. Your team may have the skills to tackle these tasks, but many lack the time. Avoid misalignment, project changes, additional expenses and delays. Businesses need a partner who can conduct interviews, create a plan, develop designs and document your ideal future state.

The Solution

Conceptualize your ideal future with Blueprint services. Your investment pays dividends when we help you:

- Align business goals with end user needs.
- Prioritize functionality to drive impact.
- Reduce costly changes during projects.
- Build an infrastructure that supports collaboration.
- Understand network and power requirements.
- Balance budget and project requirements.

BPR

A Business Process Review is an in-depth evaluation of your current collaboration ecosystem. We then identify an ideal future state to achieve your business objectives. Alignment on the prioritized roadmap creates focus for the entire team.

Project Plan

An interactive plan allows us to scope major tasks against milestones, dates and benchmarks to emphasize resource allocation and effort.

Design

A detailed design includes infrastructure recommendations, AV systems and workflows. A variety of visualization options are available like wireframes, line diagrams, elevations and renderings.
